The HP Software Media and Documentation Updates Service can help you keep software and related information up-to-date for all systems.

Ongoing success with IT systems requires keeping the software and related information up-to-date for all systems. The HP Software Media and Documentation Updates Service can help you achieve this by accelerating your receipt of software and documentation updates. As HP releases updates to software and reference manuals, these updates will be delivered to your system manager or designee, including updates for selected HP-supported third-party software products as such updates are made available from the original software manufacturer.

Based on how you ordered your original software, you may order software updates and documentation separately, or in combination. Order a complete set of all required updates for a specific HP operating system platform, or for individual products where available. This service also provides electronic access to comprehensive support information, enabling any member of your IT staff to locate essential product and support information. For third-party products, this access is subject to the availability of such information electronically from the vendor.
Service benefits

This service enables you to:

• Obtain enhanced versions of your selected software
• Increase system performance and reduce downtime due to software defects
• Reduce the cost of purchasing individual software updates through subscription savings

Service feature highlights

• Simplify your administrative and operational activities by relying on a single service provider to deliver all required updates for HP and HP-supported third-party products
• Acquire only necessary media and documentation in the exact quantities you need, eliminating duplicate deliverables or items that you do not need
• Software product and documentation updates
• Electronic software information

HP Customer Support Services are governed by Exhibit SS5 and the HP Terms and Conditions of Sale and Service, HP Business Terms or HP Global Agreement.
You may order software updates and documentation separately, or in combination.

Service eligibility

Software Media and Documentation Updates Service is available for any HP or third-party current product version that is properly licensed and supported by HP.

To be eligible to purchase this service, the Customer must be properly licensed to use the revision of the software product that is current at the beginning of the service contract period; otherwise, the Customer will be required to purchase an update license, or a license to use the new software revision, to bring the Customer into service eligibility. This requirement is not applicable to documentation-only updates.

Service limitations

This service does not include the license to use and copy software product updates.

Customer responsibilities

The Customer will only use software updates on systems for which they are properly licensed and in accordance with current HP software licensing terms corresponding to the Customer’s prerequisite underlying software license, or in accordance with the current licensing terms of the third-party software manufacturer, if applicable.

The Customer must retain, and provide to HP upon request, all original software licenses, upgrade license agreements, and license keys.

The Customer is responsible for registering to use HP’s electronic facility in order to obtain software product information and download HP software patches.

General provisions/Other exclusions

Distribution of certain third-party software updates may be made directly from the third-party vendor to the Customer.

The following will not be included in this service:

- Individual software products that HP has discontinued or reclassified as Mature Product Support or “Customer Supported” during the term of the Customer’s service contract
- Updates for any software product that HP deems not shippable will not be included in a scheduled delivery of the Software Products Library
